

EXPERTISE

Multi-Family

Beecher Development Services understands the detail-oriented care that goes into constructing multi-family builds. From your first idea to opening the units, Beecher handles every aspect of your build—from understanding your proforma, to site analysis, to competition evaluation, to hiring the building engineer.

The next evolution of multi-family construction is modular construction, and Beecher has experience using both Prescient systems and modular construction. Beecher's knowledge helps your multi-family build be constructed quickly, while maintaining their high standards of quality.
